REVIEWER REPORT

Manuscript Title:	Intercultural Sensitivity and Willingness to Listen among Student Journalists in Public Elementary Schools
Type of Article:	Original Article

FIRST ROUND

EDITOR

Comments and Recommendations
Both reviewers note that while the data is compelling, the abstract must include the exact participant numbers and specify the highest-rated sub-domains. Please revise your abstract to provide a complete statistical overview.

REVIEWER 1

Specific Comments and Recommendations
Please enhance your abstract by explicitly stating the specific geographic location and participant demographics to provide immediate context. You must ensure that 134 student journalists from Sto. Tomas District, Division of Davao del Norte are clearly identified in the summary. Furthermore, you need to explicitly list the exact domains that received the highest ratings. Make sure to mention that interaction engagement and the speaker dimension were the most prominent areas. Additionally, clarify the exact predictive power of your regression model. State explicitly that interaction confidence, interaction enjoyment, and interaction attentiveness significantly predicted willingness to listen.

General Comments and Recommendations
This quantitative descriptive-correlational research provides a highly relevant and methodologically rigorous examination of communicative competencies among young journalists. The construct operationalization is sound, yet the initial manuscript requires a much more explicit articulation of the specific domain outcomes in the abstract to meet the standards of top-tier educational journals. Clarifying the precise predictor variables will significantly elevate the empirical transparency of your summary. Implementing these comprehensive revisions will firmly establish your research as a substantive contribution to intercultural communication literature.

Specific Comments and Recommendations
The abstract lacks the exact location right now. You must write Sto Tomas District inside the text. Also, tell the readers the exact participant count. State that 134 student reporters answered the survey. Next, list the exact high score areas. Add interaction engagement and speaker awareness to the paragraph. The public will appreciate these specific facts when they review the document.

General Comments and Recommendations
I read the article about student reporters and cultural awareness. The text holds great value for teachers everywhere. You need to put exact facts in the summary so people understand the research fast. Please apply my advice below to perfect the document.
